

Delightfully becoming colors— effective weaves are descriptive of the new Fall styles:

The colors are soft and subdued, and most often the dark tones of blue, brown, grey and green. And because the dark tones lead, black is especially good.

The materials include many beautiful and unique mixtures, some smooth in finish, some rough—checks and plaids, zibelines, wool ratine and wool crepe, soft broadcloths and velvets, duvetynes, wonderful plush and fur fabrics. Many of the smartest models are finished with cord and tassel ornaments. Fur bands and edgings form a much-to-be-desired trimming for many a coat and suit.

All these materials and colors are well represented in our Bischof line of coats and suits. Come in and examine the new materials—see how delightfully soft and yet how warm they are, what practical winter garments they make. If you have heretofore found it difficult to secure a becoming color, let us prove to you that this season's colors are exceptionally easy to wear.

Don't put off getting your new winter clothes until the styles begin to get old. Lead the style instead of following it.

Boone Way Campaign in South East Kentucky.

R. E. Wood, of the Kentucky Good Road Association, accompanied by James Maret, the original Boone Way Booster, of this place, left here Tuesday to push the campaign in South East Kentucky. Tuesday night they met with the Commercial Club at London and had speaking at the court house Wednesday. There were good listeners present at both meetings; among them were E. A. Pollard, T. J. Moen, W. D. Poynter, H. V. Pennington, R. Boyd, E. W. Hackney, Clarence J. Sipple, W. R. Hackney, W. C. Kehr, J. B. Eberlein, Judge Brown and J. W. Felner, who gladly joined the State Good Roads Association and enlisted in the fight to push Laurel to the front in the work of constructing Boone Way through the county. The membership is expected to be increased to forty working boosters. They intend to prosecute a campaign throughout the county and have the Fiscal Court take action in the matter similar to that of the Rockcastle Magistrates.

The campaigners held a meeting with the Corbin Commercial Club Wednesday night when the gospel of good roads and the manner of securing state aid was delivered and described to eager and attentive listeners. Ten of the progressive citizens joined the Association whose mission was explained to be an organization with headquarters at Louisville whose aim and purpose was the dissemination of information in all the counties of the state on the subject of state aid and its manner of working. The list of the Corbin live wires who cast their lot with the Kentucky Good Road Association and the Boone Way Boosters, are as follows: Dr. J. H. Parker, B. J. Edwards, James Downing, James T. Nelson, W. H. Candler, T. J. Ballard, L. J. Ballard, Chas. E. Nelson, I. N. Bryant and E. L. Skinner. Many more will add their names to the roster. Everybody in Corbin has taken the road fever. Mr. Woods in his talks, explained that there were three ways in which state aid can be secured: By either a bond issue, taxation or private subscription, or by a combination of two or all three of the plans. He further stated that when the money was placed in the hands of the Fiscal Court the state will advance an equal amount as put up by the county no matter in what manner the court raises the funds. No county, however, can receive more than 2 per cent of the state road fund in one year which will be in the neighborhood of $12,000 and the same amount each following year. It is calculated that the 5 cent tax levied by the late act of the legislature will be $600,000 per year. The state furnishes engineers to survey and locate roads, make plans and estimates without cost to the counties. Where a county does not take advantage of opportunity to secure this state aid the 5 cent tax it pays into the state road fund will be used to assist in building roads in those counties which make application and meet the conditions of the road law. These roads are let out by contract and bonds are required of contractors. The construction is under the supervision of the state and everything connected therewith must be properly carried out by contractors thereby assuring first class roads. Jefferson county will pay into the state road fund $120,000 per year and can only draw out $12,000, so it is seen the richer counties will aid the less fortunate portions of the state.

The Corbin boosters are working on the plan of having Boone Way deflected from the Camp Ground route and brought thru this place from London, thence on to Grays and Barbourville. They put up the strong argument that the road is already graded from London to Corbin over the abandoned roadbed of the L. & N. the whole distance, except possibly three miles. It is a magnificent grade, six miles of which is in daily use by the traveling public; other miles could be used if some open culverts were bridged. All that it lacks is the construction of one or two bridges, macadamizing, and the grading of the three miles mentioned, to have a first-class highway between the points mentioned. Some of the grading cost the railroad company at the rate of $40,000 a mile.

The campaign workers will be at Barbourville, Friday and Friday night, speak at Pineville, 1 p.m., Saturday, and Middlesboro at 7 p.m., same day.

The enthusiasm shown by the people along Boone Way route is most gratifying to the workers and to the Kentucky Good Roads Association. Boone Way maps and literature were distributed along the route.

W. H. Poynter and E. A. Pollard, of London, are enthusiastic boosters.

Among the live wires at Corbin is J. J. Price, Dr. I. H. Parker and James Downing. The whole bunch for that matter are right onto the job.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburgh one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do no object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. COMMISSIONER TERRELL

Promises State Aid To Boone Way.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 25, 1914.
Mr. E. R. Gentry,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.,

Dear Sir:

A special meeting of the Fiscal Court will not be necessary, but the Fiscal Court can make an order at the next meeting saying that they can meet dollar for dollar the state fund in order that the apportionment may be made.

This will not preclude the county from receiving private subscriptions to assist in meeting this appropriation from the state.

Am glad to note you had a splendid meeting and that you are pushing the work in Rockcastle county. An engineer will be sent to make an estimate as soon as possible.

Yours truly,
ROBERT C. TERRELL,
Commissioner of Public Roads.

Lawyer's View of Trial of the Christ

[From Kentucky Post.]

Commonwealth Attorney R. G. Williams, of Kenton county, delivered an unusual address before the bible class of the First Christian Church, Covington, Sunday morning, on "The Trial of Christ From a Lawyer's Viewpoint." From start to finish the talk was intensely interesting and touched upon the illegal procedure in the trial of Christ from both the Roman and Hebrew laws of that time.

"Both civil and criminal trials from the earliest times have created a great interest," said Prosecutor Williams, "but of all the great trials of the past and present none has been so intensely interesting as the criminal trial of our Savior.

"The first question is, Was the trial of the Galilean peasant a legal one? Did it abide strictly with the requirements of the laws of that time? From what I have studied from the various historical readings, it did not. From start to finish it was illegal.

"The trial of Jesus was twofold Hebrew and Roman, ecclesiastical and civil. The Hebrew trial took place between the Great Sanhedrin, consisting of 71 members. A majority of these could not convict, but could acquit. To convict it always required two more than a majority. In those days there was no State Attorney, nor was there any such body as a modern grand jury. The witnesses were the only prosecutors recognized by the Hebrew law and for capital crimes they were the executioners as well.

JESUS ARRESTED.

"Jesus was arrested at midnight April 6, 30 A.D., without warrant or a charge.

"Although the Hebrew law expressly forbids a criminal trial being held at night, in violation of that law, the Supreme Court of the Jews assembled at 2 o'clock in the morning, on April 7, to try Jesus, at which time he was convicted, and sentenced to death. At daybreak on the same morning the court reassembled to retry him and to determine how it could be brought before Pilate. Within an hour thereafter he was dead before the Roman Governor, Pontius Pilate, for trial under the civil law on the charge of high treason against Caesar. The trial resulted in a verdict of acquittal but instead of releasing the prisoner as the law directed, he ordered him taken before Herod, Tetrarch of Galilee, who, after another trial, during which the court mocked and brutalized the prisoner, finally sent him back to the Roman Governor. Pilate announced that Herod had failed to find the prisoner guilty and reminded the people who were clamoring for the life of Jesus that he himself had acquitted him. He then proposed to scourge the Nazarene and release him. This offer was scornfully rejected by the Jews, who were demanding the crucifixion of Jesus. Although Pilate could find no fault in the man he yielded to the demands of the mob and ordered the prisoner crucified.

NO AUTHORITY TO TRY.

"Herod had no legal right to try Jesus, because he had already been tried and acquitted on the same charge. Former jeopardy could have been pleaded in bar of a further prosecution. Herod, therefore, had no jurisdiction to try the offense charged against Jesus. Nor did Pilate have a right to try him again on that charge, for he had already tried him and returned a verdict of not guilty, and as a Judge he had no right to put him in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

"The trial was the most memorable act of injustice recorded in history. At every stage of these trials the prisoner conducted himself with that commanding dignity and majesty so well worthy of his origin, mission and destiny.

His sublime deportment at times caused His Judges even to marvel. His friends and followers had deserted him in his hour of greatest need. Singlehanded and unaided, the Galilean peasant had bared his breast and brow to the combined authority, to the insults and outrages of both Jerusalem and Rome. Not a single word of defense was raised amid this tumultuous clamor, and not a word of protest disturbed the mighty concord of anger.

"But before the final decree was executed Pilate resolved to apply a soothing salve to his bleeding conscience. He performed a ceremonial cleansing act. Calling for a basin of water, he washed his hands before the multitude saying: 'I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.'

The following editorial is from Wednesday's Courier Journal:

"The proposed improvement in Boone Way, from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap would provide an inlet, from the roads now macadamized in the central counties, into an exceptionally picturesque section of the Kentucky mountains. No little benefit to the counties traversed would arise from the tourist travel alone.

"The partly famous Bluegrass regions now offers the tourist the only extensive mileage of really good roads in the state. It is a section which has had improved roads for the better part of a century. The limestone highways have both reflected and affected the welfare of the group of counties of which Fayette is the hub. To the heart of the highlands is but a short crows' flight from the limestone roads of the counties bordering the foothills of the Cumberlands. But the way is tortuous and torturing over the roads that exist. A motor vehicle inlet would open to the ever-increasing stream of tourists a section which has fascinated the imagination of motorists, but has been barred to all but the adventurous. And even to the adventurous, efforts to penetrate the mountains have often proved misadventure.

"Motorists in Kentucky, save in favorable weather in the summer and early autumn, are virtually limited to the central counties.
These counties have been explored by nearly everyone who makes week-end tours. There are many motorists to whom Central Kentucky is an old story, and who would like nothing better than trips through the more rugged sections of the State.

"The promoters of the improvement of Boone Way have inaugurated their missionary work at a time when the first intercounty system of good roads outside of the Bluegrass is yet to be made.
The proposed improvement should awaken the interest of the people of the counties which lie between Crab Orchard and Cumberland Gap. Of course, there would be other, and greater benefits than the attraction of automobile traffic, but the money that would be distributed along the route by motorists would amount to a good deal each year, and the improvement of acquaintanceship between the mountains and other parts of the State would be valuable to both the highlands and the lowlands."

THE COUNTRY'S WAR AGAINST THE FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Fourteen states have been quarantined by the United States government for foot-and-mouth disease—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Kentucky. This disease is new to farmers of the United States, for there have been only five outbreaks in the history of the country and of these the first three were unimportant and the two others confined to a comparatively limited area. In Europe however, it has long been a well known and dread scourge. Should it ever be permitted to establish itself as firmly here it would cause not only tremendous losses to stock but Typical Lesions on the Feet.

seriously interfere with the supply of meat for the people.

The foot-and-mouth disease affects particularly cattle, swine and sheep.
It is characterized by sores in the mouth which make swallowing painful and frequently cause the animals to refuse all food, and by sores on the feet which cause lameness and in severe cases, occasionally result in the hoofs dropping off. The animals lose flesh with extraordinary rapidity and in the case of milk cows the milk supply is so seriously affected that it frequently dries up altogether. The first evidences of the disease are a chill followed quickly by fever, the temperature sometimes rising as high as 106 degrees Fahrenheit. Small vesicles or blisters about the size of a pea appear shortly after in the mouth and spread rapidly. As the disease advancesropy saliva hangs from the afflicted animal's mouth which is opened and shut with a peculiar smacking sound. In a short time similar eruptions appear on the feet, which are red, tender, swollen and painful. In consequence the animal persists in lying down and becomes soon dejected. The udders of milk cows are also susceptible and the sores interfere with milking.

Most Contagious of Stock Plagues.

Although the mortality is, except in very severe outbreaks, comparatively low, foot-and-mouth disease is probably the most contagious of all stock plagues. The germ which causes it is so small that it is invisible under the microscope and passes through the finest filter known to science. It can be carried in any one of a hundred ways. In addition to direct contact with affected animals, the disease can be communicated by hay, straw, bedding, harness, ropes, in fact, any thing that has even indirectly come in contact with diseased animals. Cats, dogs, and poultry have been known to carry the germ from farm to farm, and in particular this is frequently done by human beings. Already in the present outbreak cases are on record where the curiosity of farmers has led them to visit infected herds. It is advisable to slaughter these men have given the disease to their own animals. For this reason the authorities are urging upon every one the duty of refraining from such visits and of keeping strangers from visiting their stock.

The contagiousness of the disease indeed is such that when one animal in a herd becomes infected it is considered useless to attempt to save the remainder of the herd. For this reason the federal authorities have adopted the only practical method of stamping out the disease, namely, the slaughter of all cattle, sheep and swine on an infected farm. When a case is discovered a deep trench is dug, the animals led into it, slaughtered their hides slashed, and the carcasses treated with quicklime and then buried under at least five feet of earth. It is advisable to slaughter the animals in the ditch itself in order that the ground may not become affected by dragging the dead bodies over it. The hides are slashed thoroughly in order to facilitate the action of the time and partly to remove any are the thoroughly disinfected and no of approximately sixty days.

Appraiser Values the Herd.

In order to compensate the owner of his property thus condemned in the interest of the public welfare, an appraiser is appointed by the state authorities to value the herd. The sum his fixed is divided equally between the state and the federal authorities.
In the last outbreak in 1908 in New England it cost the federal government, which was then paying two hundred of the appraised values, approximately $300,000 for condemnation, slaughter and disinfection. The present outbreak is regarded as much more serious.

The inspectors engaged in this work are equipped with a complete rubber outfit which can be thoroughly disinfected after each exposure to infection. Persons who have not the advantage of this equipment should rigorously refrain from exposing themselves to the least risk of infection as has already been said, the disease is frequently transmitted by human beings, and it is really a crime for any one to gratify his curiosity at the expense of his neighbors. In addition to this danger there are also a number of cases on record in which both children and adults have become infected themselves. Ordinarily the disease is not serious in men, but vicious children who drink contain-ated milk suffer so severely that in a few cases death has been known to result. With adults the malady usually takes no more serious form than a slight eruption in the mouth similar to fever blisters and possibly a similar eruption on the hands and fingers.
There may be also some fever and anxiety, but there is comparatively little danger. In countries where the disease is prevalent many authorities believe that it is fairly general in human beings but that the consequent disturbances in health are so slight that they are not brought to the attention of physicians.

Started in Michigan.

The present outbreak originated in southern Michigan but how the germ found its way there is not yet definitely known. It seems probable that some cattle became infected, that their milk was sent to a creamery and the skim milk then returned to be fed to hogs. A herd of these infected hogs was then shipped to Chicago where they infected the stock

Ropy Saliva Hanging From Mouth of Stricken Animal.

yards before they themselves revealed any symptoms of the disease. Once this had taken place, every shipment of stock from Chicago to other parts of the country was likely to spread the infection. For this reason federal inspectors have for some time now been engaged in tracing, by the aid of bills of lading and other railroad records, each of these shipments to its destination and inspecting the stock there. This accounts for the discovery of cases in states as far removed from each other as Iowa and Massachusetts. The various quarantines already imposed have been designed to prevent the continued movement of cattle from infected or suspicious places. Once these movements have been halted and all the exposed cattle brought to a standstill, it will be possible for the federal authorities to locate all suspicious cases and by the slaughter of all exposed cattle ultimately eradicate the di-ease. The federal quarantines are accompanied by state and local quarantines of individual infected farms.

From these no produce whatsoever can be sent out. In many cases children are not even permitted to go to school, and the farmer cannot drive his horses on the public highways.

Stock Raisers Should Help.
The chief obstacle in the way of the successful prosecution of this campaign of isolation and extermination lies in the danger that there may be concealed sources of infection. Although the farmer receives the appraised value of his herd, it is inevitable that the summary slaughter of all his stock should cause him considerable inconvenience as well as indirect financial loss. To those who can see no further ahead than this and who do not realize what it would mean to the entire country if the disease were once to gain a firm foothold here, there is a natural temptation to report suspicious cases to the authorities. This, however, is simply to cut off one's nose to spite one's face. The disease cannot be stamped out by ignoring it. The only possible way in which stock raisers can save themselves tremendous losses in the future is to co-operate now with the authorities by reporting every suspicious case of sore mouth or lameness among their stock and by assisting in enforcing the quarantine, both federal and local, which have been declared.

EXCELLENT POINTS CONCERNING SWINE

Alfalfa Recognized as of Greatest Value in Hog Feeding—Care for Sows.

(BY C. S. MILLER.)

If you intend to plow your blue grass and clover pastures next spring, let the pigs have free range over them until the snow falls.

No other feed for small pigs ranks as high in value as skim milk. If you do not have plenty of it on your own farm, better arrange to get some from a neighbor, even if it takes trouble to do it.

In the West alfalfa is now recognized as of the greatest value in hog feeding. Give a brood sow plenty of cut alfalfa with a small ration of corn, say not more than two pounds per day, and she will come through the winter in fine condition.

A slop made of shorts and hot water, fed every other day, is an excellent thing for brood sows.

A good many men will tear themselves from close proximity to a hot stove, dash out into the storm, shovel up handfuls of corn on the ground for their hogs, and then leave them to shiver and freeze without adequate shelter during the night. These men are the fellows who are always sure there is no money in hog raising.

Since Doctor Moore's discovery of the hitherto unknown qualities of oysters, it has been used with great success to preserve the health of hogs. A very small portion, say a cupful in a barrel of drinking water once or twice a week, is recommended.

Woman May Find as Much Enjoyment

The woman who finds herself pos-poultry will soon learn that she may spend an afternoon working with her if she spent her time shopping. No will she be nearly so tired as if she had been walking around on hard sidewalks.

Instead of being out of pocket—for most every woman will buy things that she does not need if she chances to see them—she will find that she has added to the possibilities for gain.

To be out in the open air and sunshine is to see more real life than does the woman who is always in the house.

GUNBOATS CLASH

CANADIAN GUNBOAT RAINBOW WAS IN ACTION AGAINST GERMAN CRUISERS.

Portugal Votes For Intervention—
Chilean Neutrality Was Violated
By Germans.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Portland, Ore.—According to an unconfirmed report received here the Canadian gunboat Rainbow was in action against the German cruisers Leipzig and Nürnberg in Pacific waters several weeks ago. The date of the reported engagement and its location are not given.

According to the story, which is said to have been told by an Englishman residing in Canada, the Rainbow suddenly came upon the German cruisers, and the latter immediately opened fire. The Rainbow replied and was putting up a stiff battle against great odds when the French cruiser Montcalm came to her rescue.
The Montcalm opened fire on the Germans, who, after firing several more broadside, steamed away in the face of the Montcalm's superior armament.

The Rainbow is said to have been so badly damaged in the engagement that it was necessary for the Montcalm to tow her to the Canadian naval base at Esquimaux. No confirmation of this story is to be had from Canadian sources.

The cannonading heard off Coos Bay several weeks ago has never been satisfactorily explained, and it is highly probable that those who heard the booming of guns were not mistaken, and that it was the engagement between the little Rainbow and the two German cruisers.

Portugal Votes For Intervention.

London.—The London Star has received a dispatch from Lisbon which says that the Portuguese Congress voted the government's proposal for military intervention in the war by Portugal. The vote, it is assumed, places Portugal on the side of the allies.

Chilean Neutrality Is Violated.

Santiago, Chile.—An official statement, issued by the maritime authorities, says that it has been proved that German warships have been violating the neutrality of Chile by staying for several days in the Juan Fernandez Islands, capturing two neutral ships, seizing coal and provisions and sinking the French bark Valentine a half mile distant from the Chilean coast.

POULTRY DEALER LURED DEATH.

New York.—A second Rosenthal murder was enacted in New York in the shooting of Barnett Baff, wealthy poultry dealer and implacable foe of the "poultry trust." Practically every feature of the slaying of the gambler for which four gunmen were electrocuted and former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker is awaiting a similar fate, was re-enacted by the gunmen, who called Baff onto the street and shot him to death. District Attorney Whitman stood over the body of Baff just as he had stood over the body of Herman Rosenthal, and in a voice vibrant with passion, declared that he would run this gang to earth as he had the slayers of the gambler.

SQUAD OF AUSTRIAN SHOOTERS.

Oakland, Cal.—Three American citizens have been executed by Austrian officials at Cattaro, Dalmatia, according to a letter received here from L.
Magud, a priest. One of the victims was a fifteen-year-old boy, son of S.
Medin, of this city. The executions took place in the public square of Cattaro. In the letter the priest states that while in Cattaro he witnessed the execution of a large number of prisoners, who were suspected of being spies or otherwise enemies of Austria.

Isaac Catlin and Miss Mabel Niceley, Jim Brady and Miss Alice Ward, all popular young people of Livingston were married at Jellico, Tenn., yesterday. They all have many friends here who wish them much happiness. If there are any more weddings in Livingston, some good woman will have to take Will Owens or Mart Hicks since they are at the head of the marriageable list.

BOONELETT'S

R. L. Collier and J. Thomas Cherry, two of Crab Orchard's original boosters came up in Mr. Collier's big Studebaker car, picking up on the way John Robins, former post master of Brodhead, and Albert Hiatt, cashier, live wires and pushers in our highway movement.

Miss Rose McCord, principal of Langdon Memorial School, and chairman of good roads committee of State Woman's Club, has the honor to be the second woman to take membership in the Kentucky Good Roads Association.

It was sure some meeting.

The Graded School was well represented.

They were here from every part of the county.

Many who couldn't attend sent words of good will and cheer.

Twenty members at $5 each were secured in Mt. Vernon for the Kentucky Good Roads Association. Not so bad for a little town, eh?

Dr. Wm. Price, of Somerset, and Dr. Isaacs, of Woodstock, motored over in Dr. Price's car and were attentive listeners at the speaking. They consulted with the magistrates while here. They are working in the interest of a road from Somerset to Crab Orchard.

One of our magistrates had to be in London as a witness in court Tuesday.

Miss Rose McCord, the excellent representative of Langdon Memorial School never misses an opportunity to boost a good movement as well as bringing several hands along to assist.

If the people will all join hands and go to work for Boone Way, construct one-half next year, the other half the next, and the following year start the road from the Madison to the Pulaski line and in four years Rockcastle will have two pikes running the entire length of the county and no citizen or tax-payer will feel the effect, and in fact, from a standpoint of taxation, will never know that such roads have been built. Talk Boone Way and help to build it.

The greatest wheat area in the world's history will be planted for the 1915 harvest as a result of the European war, is the opinion of Charles M. Daugherty, statistical expert of Agriculture. In a report made public Tuesday, Mr. Daugherty says:

"As a result of the war in Europe, a worldwide tendency exists to increase the acreage of wheat. Doubtless the most extensive area in the history of the world will be needed during the present autumn and coming spring. A prospective heavy demand for this important food grain by the importing countries of Western Europe is likely, if seeding conditions favor, to give extraordinary stimulus to sowings of both winter and spring varieties in the two great exporting countries of North America and to those sowings now being furnished under auspicious circumstances in British India.

"In the Southern Hemisphere seeding was completed before the war began, and the effect of economic conditions upon extension of areas there will be manifest only in the spring and summer of 1915.

"In Europe, where ordinarily over one-half the world's wheat is produced, the indications are that all available labor resources, in both neutral and contending nations, will be utilized to the utmost for getting in full or increased areas. In Italy, where wheat acreage is ordinarily second in extent to that of no State in Europe, excepting Russia, 1,000,000 acres, it is said, will be added to the crop.

"In the contending countries extraordinary efforts are being exerted in autumn seeding. The services of women and children, men exempt from military service, refugees, prisoners of war and soldiers temporarily relieved from the ranks are being utilized in the fields as occasions permit and require. Because of strained labor conditions and of the occupation of certain territory during seed time by contending troops, some local contractions of area seem inevitable. The reduction, however, is likely to be compensated by increased sowings in neutral nations.

"In Western Europe, particularly in England and France, the autumn sowings of wheat are somewhat in arrears, but as a large part of these countries is favored with a mild climate, making sowing operations possible at times during the entire winter, little anxiety is expressed over the present delay. Reports from Germany and other countries of Central Europe indicate that seeding operations have been carried on with activity."

MUST NOW AWAIT A FOREIGN SUGGESTION

Uncle Sam Can Go No Further As Peace Maker.

London, Nov. 18.—The agitation in the newspapers of Holland for joint intervention by the queen of the Netherlands and the president of the United States is increasing, but it has not as yet evoked any comment here.

Washington, Nov. 18.—There is no indication of a movement for intervention in the European war by the Washington government or another tender of its good offices as peacemaker. Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have said to callers that until there was an intimation from one of the belligerents that the good offices of the United States as peacemaker was desired no further more looking to peace would be made by the president.

The president said there could be no further step in the way of offering mediation without the risk of incurring the displeasure of certain of the powers and crippling the efforts of this country to achieve peace when the time comes to act. The president will wait for a suggestion from one or more of the belligerents that mediation is desired. The United States, through the president in a formal as well as in an informal way, has made the tender of its good offices for mediation. The offer stands and is well understood by the belligerents.

HAS NOTHING TO GIVE OUT

State Department Considers Latin American Incident Closed.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Though he has not received any replies from the American diplomatic representatives in Ecuador and Colombia whom he instructed to "investigate" charges that the neutrality of those countries was not being preserved with sufficient strictness, Secretary Bryan has announced that the incident might be considered closed.

Mr. Bryan said there had been so much misrepresentation about the state department's action in the matter that he would discuss the subject no further. Results of the department's inquiries will not be made public through him.

Wants a Change of Venue.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 18.—Loring W. Mellett, an attorney of Indianapolis, formerly of Elwood, has asked for a change of venue in a case in which he is accused of embezzlement. Mellett's trial was to have been called in the circuit court here. He is under a bond of $2,500.

Russians are reported to be disappointed because the allies have not driven the Germans out of France and Belgium and because England and France have not put larger armies in the field.

DESPONDENCY DUE TO INDIGESTION.

It is not all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Miss Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

It is time that "We the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky" were beginning to open our eyes to the opportunities that are being offered as free. There is a great number of us especially in the mountains of Kentucky who have not woken up. Most of us are ready to go crazy over politics and patent medicines. I believe we should be enthusiastic enough to elect good men to office but not get so badly carried off as to neglect other things which are equally as important.

The State Board of Health is making a great effort to save people from dying from preventable diseases such as consumption and typhoid. There were over 4000 people died in Kentucky in 1913 from consumption; an average of 15 people per day. Taking away young fathers and mothers in the prime of life leaving destitute widows and orphans to be cared for by charity.

The State Board of Health provides Local Registrars in each voting precinct whose duty it is to report all births and deaths. If any one thinks they have consumption they should go to the Local Registrar who will free of charge furnish containers which can be sent by mail a specimen of the discharges from throat and lungs, this will be examined free and if the person has this disease in the first stage they can be treated with very little expense and most always cured and also save the other members of the family from infection. Typhoid as most every one knows is a germ disease. In 1913 there were 954 persons died with typhoid or about three people per day. Each case cost on an average of $175 total cost $166950 besides the valuable lives. To take typhoid you must swallow some of the discharges from the bowels or kidneys; the germs are generally carried by flies or water. After all most people go on not heeding these all important things.

Next the U. S. Government is ready to help us along the line of agriculture and stock and fruit raising. The Government pays a farm demonstrator to come at the farmers call and help him in many ways but very few people seem to appreciate this offer.

If a hole should come in our pocket and we should hear a dime fall on the ground we would stop and pick it up, but will let our cow manure wash off during the summer and not make an effort to save it.

The U. S. Government and the state Department of Agriculture have hundreds of free bulletins which contain lots of valuable information and they are anxious to send them out but if they don't have our names they can't send them.

Prof. Smith of Richmond who has a fruit farm near Conway, Ky. offered enough fruit trees to set an acre around each school house in this county if the district would furnish the ground. There was not a school applied for the trees. Now that offer is withdrawn and the opportunity is lost. Next the State stands ready to put a dollar on our county roads every time we will put one on. Now if we are not careful this proposition will be withdrawn before we take advantage of it.

The rural schools, county High Schools, State Normals, Teachers and Board of Education are standing with outstretched arms pleading for people to be educated free still our children are growing up in ignorance. Last but not least are the churches and preachers pleading for people to give their hearts to God, yet a great many are blind to this all important thing by going on in wickedness and dying in their sins. I trust that people will begin to think about those things and not let all those great opportunities pass unheeded.

Your friend,
